DJJ Hiring in December!

Georgia Department of Juvenile Justice Recruiting in Morrow

(SPECIAL for MORROW-GA) Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) Commissioner Avery D. Niles has an important message for qualified candidates who want to begin planning now for a new job in the New Year.

DJJ is offering full-time employment in one of Georgia's most challenging criminal justice career areas. Agency recruiters are looking for jobseekers who want the kind of work that will make a real difference in their communities.

The department is filling professional positions for Juvenile Corrections Officers (JCOs), highly qualified teachers and Registered Nurses (RNs). The agency is offering employment opportunities at secure facilities throughout the state in Georgia's juvenile justice system.

"We're searching for special people with the kind of personal drive it takes to help young offenders through personal challenges while they're in state custody. DJJ wants mature, responsible candidates to become part of our dedicated team," said Commissioner Niles.

The Commissioner continued, "We offer complete state health and benefit packages and we're always looking for applicants who want to put their prior specialty experience in corrections, the military or law enforcement to work in a structured juvenile justice system environment."

Please note career fair locations and times may change OR additional career fair dates may be added to the DJJ recruiting schedule. Applicants should check the DJJ website for late-breaking schedule changes at www.djjcareers.org BEFORE visiting a DJJ job fair.

###

"DJJ is a great place to make your work count."

Avery D. Niles, Commissioner
Georgia Department of Juvenile Justice

The Georgia Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) is a multi-faceted agency that serves the needs of this state's young offenders up to the age of 21. The Department employs more than 4,000 men and women at 26 secure facilities and 92 community services offices throughout the state to effect justice and redirect the young lives in the agency's care.

Including those who are placed on probation, more than 50,000 youths are diverted each year to evidence-based community programs, sentenced to short-term incarceration or committed to the Department's long-term custody by the Juvenile Courts. It is the duty of DJJ's professional corrections staff to preserve public safety and safeguard the citizens of Georgia, as well as protect the victims of crimes so that they can rebuild their lives.

At the same time, DJJ holds juvenile offenders accountable for their delinquent conduct so that they can take responsibility for their actions through probation, supervision and secure detention. The youth are provided with medical and psychological treatment, as well as specialized education and programs designed to equip them with the social, intellectual and emotional tools needed to achieve their successful reentry and reintegration into community, workplace and neighborhood settings as more productive and law-abiding citizens.
